DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5 and 11 are drawn to a recording medium, classified in class 386, subclass 79.
 - II. Claims 6-10 are drawn to a playback apparatus, classified in 386, subclass 46.
 - III. Claims 12 and 13 are drawn to a playback apparatus, classified in 386, subclass 46.
 - IV. Claim 14 is drawn to another recording medium, classified in 386, subclass 90.

2. Inventions I, II III and IV are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because combination "I" for example comprises "the graphics data is used for generating both the menu and an effect presented for introducing or removing the menu". While the subcombination "II" has separate utility because it for example comprises "a controller operable to assemble display compositions according to the composition information when uncompressed graphics are newly obtained by the processor, so as to play back the effect overlaid on the moving picture" and "the controller assembles a menu using uncompressed graphics obtained by the processor, so as to present the menu overlaid on the moving picture preceding or following playback of the effect", the subcombination "III" has a separate utility because it for example comprises "the decoding of the graphics stream includes assembling a display composition according to the composition information each time a set of uncompressed graphics is obtained, so that the set of uncompressed graphics is rendered within the specified bounding area on the graphics plane for the specified duration" and the subcombination "IV" has a separate utility because it for example comprises "the graphics stream includes an interactive control segment and a plurality of object definition segments, the interactive control segment including a plurality of pieces of page information, and each object definition segment defining a graphics object", "each of the plurality of pieces of page information defines one of a plurality of interactive display compositions constituting a multi-page menu and includes an effect sequence and button information" and "the button information specifies a graphics object used for presenting one state of a button, so that a corresponding one of the display compositions is presented on a corresponding page of the multi-page menu".

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
